
Kathleen Hughes

Consumer and Investment Management
London

Kathleen is global head of the Liquidity Solutions Client Business in Goldman Sachs Asset Management. She serves as co-sponsor of the Consumer and Investment Management Division Women's Network in EMEA, co-sponsor of the EMEA Veterans Network and is a member of the Sustainable Finance Steering Group. Kathleen joined Goldman Sachs as a managing director in 2010 and was named partner in 2016.

Prior to joining the firm, she was head of Global Liquidity sales for EMEA at JP Morgan Asset Management. Kathleen's career at JP Morgan began in 1990 and included 10 years as a private banker and 10 years in Asset Management Sales.

Kathleen is a member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Richmond. She is also a member of the Executive Advisory Council of the Robins School of Business at the University of Richmond. Kathleen is a committee member of the CFA UK Gender Diversity Network and a member of the Atlantic branch of the Investment Company Institute Global Policy Council. She was named "Investment Woman of the Year - Large Firms" by Investment Week in 2018 and 2019 and one of the "100 Most Influential People in Finance" by Treasury & Risk Magazine in 2011.

Kathleen earned a BA in Economics at the University of Richmond in 1989.